

ABSTRACT

A method for receiving on a wireless application protocol terminal a user interface configured to permit management of a network device, interacting with the user interface to send a request to a wireless application protocol device manager
5 configured to manage a network device based on the request, and receiving on the terminal a response from the device manager.

10

20145550.doc